1. Introduction
The Film Archive encourages the reproduction of items from its collections. The Documentation collection contains many items that have been acquired by bequest, donation or loan. Some of the items are still in copyright while others have been accepted under special conditions.
2. The Film Archive has a responsibility to ensure that the material in its care is used in a way consistent with the undertakings made at the time of acquisition, which recognizes cultural and personal sensitivities, and to up hold the integrity of the original item.
3. Conditions of use for reproduction or display
These conditions apply to all reproductions for publication, or exhibition, of photographs, slides, posters, publicity and written material held by the Film Archive. Props, equipment and costumes held by the Film Archive are not generally available and are dealt with on a case-by-case basis.
4. Copyright
Every effort is made to ensure that the collection is free of legal restrictions and available for public use. However, the responsibility for clearing copyright and for meeting the requirements placed on an item rests with the client. The Film Archive will assist where possible. Copyright clearances must be obtained before any material is released.
5. Format of reproduction
In order to maintain quality, the Film Archive will provide duplicate photographic prints, or digital files, from its collections. The Film Archive does not allow collection items to be reproduced directly from an existing publication or website. Nor does it allow images to be re-photographed. Cropping and manipulation of an image is allowed only with permission from the Film Archive.
6. Authorisation
The Film Archive's permission must be obtained before collection items can be reproduced or displayed. The Film Archive reserves the right to refuse applications. All reprints, further editions or reuse require a new application and are not covered by the original permission or fee. All material released remains the property of the Film Archive and must be returned after use. Digital images must be deleted from the Client's computer file immediately after use.
7. Acknowledgment
The Film Archive will supply an acknowledgment that must accompany all reproductions and displays.

8. Charges
Charges apply to photographs, slides, posters, publicity and written material and are additional to reproduction charges. Charges do not include copyright charges, which may be applied by the copyright holder. The Film Archive's standard contract must be signed before items are released.
Prices are available on application.

9. Film Archive staff are happy to discuss possible uses and the reproduction of items in the collection.
